

SING ANOTHER SONG

You whisper when you wanna shout
You stammer when you wanna hold your ground
You come and go but then again
You don't really seem to care
The same old song, day in, day out
A melody without a sound

Tell me how do you survive this pain
When every day just feels the same
Go on and write another song
One that makes me wanna sing
One that makes me wanna sing along

You never dance until the dawn
You turn down the life you never saw
You think too long before you speak
You don't seek to have it all
The same old song, day in, day out
A melody without a sound

Tell me how do you survive this pain
When every day just feels the same
Go on and write another song
One that makes me wanna sing
One that makes me wanna sing along

You are floating along so aimlessly
Like driftwood on a silent stream
As time goes by you'll lose yourself
Your tears will dry, your hopes are gone
It was the same old song, day in, day out
A melody without a sound

Tell me how do you survive this pain
When every day just feels the same
Go on and write another song
One that makes me wanna sing
One that makes me wanna sing along
Why don't you write another song?
One that makes me wanna sing along
Make me wanna sing along

LONELY DANCER

I'm a lonely dancer
My hair is made of gold
And here I lie with you

Courage is a rare thing
I borrowed for some time
So here I lie with you

Am I in a solemn dream?
Or drifting on the lonely sea?
I am alive

Time goes on so slowly
When you are not around
So here I lie and wait for you

My heartbeat cuts the silence
Reminds me that I'm weak
So here I lie and cry for you

Am I just too blind to see
That you're just a common thief?
Will you be mine?

Can I let go of all my fears?
Will I remain on my own cloud
Or can you pull me to the ground?
Please take my hand and guide me home

DREAM COME TRUE

When morning comes wandering into my sleep to kiss my cheek
All is golden and covered with dew
I am longing to hold you
So I turn and sneak back into my dream to stay with you a while

A nightingale's singing a lullaby in a moonlit night
As we lie in a bed made of green
Flowers at our head and so many things unsaid
Feels like a dream come true

I wonder what would happen if this dream went on forever?
I'm sure that our song would be real
Now at any moment the day will begin
So I close my eyes tight and I hope we can stay

I open my eyes and the sun has come and you are gone
I am lingering on in this dream
Likely to forget that you'll soon be coming back
To make this dream come true

I FEEL FINE

You're my favorite doll in my cardboard house
But I can play anybody
I feel fine, oh I feel fine

You can't enter my heart through the looking-glass
I will keep it a secret
I feel fine, oh I feel fine

Paint me a rainbow in the sky
I cannot wait until the sun and rain oblige

I'm the queen of my own dream
I am lonely but that I'll never let you see

When I call you'll come, when I bid you'll run
And I'll cry on your shoulder
You are mine, oh you are mine

You are under my spell, you are bound in chains
And I won't set you free cause
You are mine, oh you are mine

Why don't you call me all the time?
I won't believe another lie

I'm the queen of my own dream
I am lonely but that I'll never let you see
But that I'll never let you see

So I stumble around to find somebody new
But he won't make me happy
You were mine, oh you were mine

He's my favorite doll in my cardboard house
But I can play anybody
I feel fine, oh I feel fine

I'm the queen in my own dream
I am lonely but that I'll never let you see
But that I'll never let you see

WHERE WILL YOU GO?

Where will you go now that it's over?
Where will you go now that you've gone too far?

Here we are lost in deep water
And I know this time it is real

The one you love you never tear apart
But you don't care and leave me breathless in this dream

Here I am torn into pieces
And I know this time I won't heal

Where will you go now that it's over?
Where will you go now that you've gone too far?
Where will I go now that it's over?
Where will I go now that you've gone too far?

Our paper boat won't last the storm
A slight wind and it will sink
I have to get off
But I am afraid to move on

Where will we go now that it's over?
Where will we go now that our love has gone?

Here we are floating in memories
And I hope this time
I hope this time I don't give in

We've said it all nothing can mend our hearts
We can't row back, now that you've gone too far

THE LONESOME HILL

Once we lived on a lonesome hill
Geese passing by on their way
A stream turned the wheel of an age-old mill
There where we promised to stay

Love was born on the lonesome hill
As the sun turned the grass into hay
Seasons passed our window sill
Love never withered away

Still we live on the lonesome hill
Where we promised to stay
Seasons pass our window sill
Weaving our tale day by day

And our love unfolds
As we grow old

I'll remember the lonesome hill
And how I promised to stay

Take me to the riverbed
Where our love was born and bred
And I'm drowning once again

And our love unfolds
As we grow old

I hope you'll remember the lonesome hill
And our promise to stay

Take me to the riverbed
Where our love was born and bred
And I'm drowning once again

When we grow old will we still be here?
Watching the seasons go by
Will you be there and still hold me dear?
Promise you won't say goodbye

BRIDGES

Tell me why, why do I care?
After everything that you have done
Why do I care?

And I'm lost, so lost for words
After everything that you have said
I'm lost beyond words

I will do my best to let it go
And hold you dear
But I'm falling, falling, fallen dreams

Tell me why, why don't you care?
After everything that you have done
Why don't you care?

And your words are running down like tears
Empty as me
And I'm falling, falling, fallen dreams

You pretend nothing has changed
Don't you see that we're drifting apart
You promised to change

Too many bridges burned
Now I'm waiting here and watch you leave
Still the embers won't fade away and I will care

SOME WOULD SAY

The sun comes up while tears roll down
Drawn by bitter thoughts of yesterday
When I let my words run wild you walked out the door
You left me alone with nothing, nothing but my mind

Some would say you will forgive me
And some would say that we are through
Some would say you'd never leave me
And some would say you'd surely do

Nothing's really changed until the dawn
I can't put my thoughts in anything but you
I am searching for the words to say I am sorry
But I am afraid you won't come back, come back to hear me out

Some would say you will forgive me
And some would say there's too much pain
Some would say that we are broken
And some would say that I am to blame

Seven days have passed
Without a word, without a clue
I am losing control and slowly losing my mind
When losing myself means losing you
I don't wanna lose, I don't wanna lose at all

Some would say you'd never leave me
And some would say that we are through
Some would say you will forgive me
And some still say that we are through
Some would say you'd never leave me
But I'm sure I'm losing you

The sun comes up while tears roll down

STAY HERE FOR A WHILE

I'm spending all my days keeping up with a different truth
I'm chasing my own tail while I only wanna be with you

I wish that the day would always last for a hundred more
We could rest for a moment in this hiding place of mine
If we stayed here for a while

I'm working day and night but I feel like I am never through
The money that comes in doesn't buy me any time with you

People offer so much but there is only such a little I need
To rest for a moment in this hiding place of mine
If we stayed here for a while

I am feeling like a stranger
Traveling in a cage of time
Though I'm surrounded by so many friends of mine

Oh, if I could be an eagle
Floating through the painted sky
I would savor every moment on the wing
If I rested there a while

I wish that the day would always last for a hundred more
To rest for a moment in this hiding place of mine
If I stayed here for a while
Here with you just for a while

HOOKED

I open up my eyes and you are on my mind
I'm reaching out to hold you and make sure you're at my side
Just one look at you and my cheeks begin to glow
I was lost and lonely not so long ago

When my mind is slow and my thoughts are running low
You know all the answers, you know which way to go
You can make me smile if only for a while
You soothe me when I'm down and never ask me why

I am hooked on you, like a fool
I am so in love with you
But I'm afraid some others are too
What am I to do?

When you're not around there's nothing but the gloom
It seems I miss the world when I am not missing you
Each and every day you give me something new
Still I feel so lonely when I'm with you

Whenever you are near others disappear
We're traveling on a lone road but that I will not see
Whatever I may need, you fulfill my dreams
All the doors are open but I'm not feeling free

Even though I know, I really need you for nothing
I'm still hooked on you, like a fool
I am so in love with you
Yet I believe I'll be leaving you soon

La la la la la la la la la la
La la la la la la la la la la
As long as you are new, I'm stuck to you like glue
But when you're out of date, I'll buy a better you
